For Cosmo & Winter,

who anchor the present, and for the younger self hunkered down in those shitty motel rooms writing on her forearm with a ballpoint pen:

You made it through the night.

OPERATIONAL GUIDE

HOW TO NAVIGATE TIME TRAVEL

This is not a linear book of poetry. You do not turn from page to page in chronological sequence. Instead, Timetravel is an interactive labyrinth structured across one hundred distinct sections. At the conclusion of almost every passage, you will be presented with a fork in the road—a visceral decision reflecting bodily states, chemical interventions, hallucinated mythologies, motel corridors, and relational risks.

To begin, turn to Section 1 on page 1. Read the verse, feel the weight of its cadence, and examine the choices printed at the bottom of the section. When you decide which path to take, turn directly to the indicated Section number. Do not read the intervening pages. In physical gamebooks, turning the page is an intentional act of propulsion; you leap across the volume just as memory leaps across trauma and time.

Some paths will circle back on themselves, echoing the perseverative loops of psychiatric instability and insomnia. Other paths will terminate at one of four canonical endings—transcendent resting points where the storm recedes and survival is realized. If you encounter an [ENDING] marker, you have completed one timeline. Bookmark it, rest your eyes, and when you are ready, turn back to Section 1 to enter a different branch of the architecture.

Every single poem in this book is reachable. In the back of this volume, an Alphabetical Concordance is provided so that after you have wandered the labyrinth, you may locate any specific poem or archival plate directly.

I AM I

A POST-EQUILIBRIUM RETROSPECTIVE

Between 2014 and 2022, I lived inside the storm. These passages were not drafted as polished literary exercises for a salon; they were emergency telemetry. When you are moving through severe bipolar cycles, manic flights where angels whisper behind your skull, sensory overloads, medication titrations that leave you either shaking or numb, and long nights staring at motel ceiling tiles, writing is not a hobby—it is an anchor dropped into a fathomless ocean.

I originally built Timetravel inside Twine because linear form could not hold the multiplicity of those states. In a traditional book, a poem sits quietly on the page, pretending that grief and clarity follow a straight line. But madness is branched. Chemistry is branched. Every morning and every evening presents a fork: Do I take the pills? Do I smash the plate? Do I look at the bees? Do I get in the car and drive seventy miles per hour down highway seventy-six?

To hold this physical book today in 2026—bound in ink, paper, and hard-won somatic peace—is proof that equilibrium is possible. The rust goddess does not own me. The angels have laid down their swords. The dog snores beside the bed, the morning sun breaks over the Oregon ridge, and the timeline holds. I am I.

INTRO

1st, grow wings.
2nd, 3rd, 4th,
What do you want to see?
Someone I could love
The beauty I could make Things that never were

WHAT DO YOU DO?

- If you choose to Follow the path toward the rust goddess: turn to Section 57.
- If you choose to Follow the path toward let me tell you: turn to Section 42.

CHEMICALS

fire hearted
but yellow-bellied never stable
always steadied droves of chemicals
swirl in my brain slowing images of sinister pain holding back that unquenchable longing stopping the stars of their strange, sad songing
swim in my brain

PLATE § 2 — ARCHIVAL ARTIFACT: CHEMICALS (PXL)

WHAT DO YOU DO?

- If you choose to Let the chemistry numb the doubt: turn to Section 68.
- If you choose to Count the sins between doses: turn to Section 19.

DEAL

I don’t have much but it’s all yours to take and I’ll strike a deal with you
if it flutters your heart just right I’ll wrap you in poetry writing all the words that come to mind I’ll hand my soul to you scribbled on paper
with a liberal dash of imagery and rhyme
and the modest price I ask is just a tender touching of the lips

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Graze the back of their neck: turn to Section 73.

one zero zero
one
everyone the rain 1001everyonetherain
one
zero zero
one
everyone the rain

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Watch the rain blur the wipers: turn to Section 70.

SECTION 5

A LOVE POEM TO MYSELF

I'm the kind of asshole who never returns calls
you're the kind of asshole
that dubs earthshattering screams
into my relaxation records
your overachieving
ass
is the yang to my apathy we make a dangerous couple

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Look at the scrapbook photos: turn to Section 79.

GOD

God

and if God is dead,
who do I pray to about my survivor's guilt?

PLATE § 6 — ARCHIVAL ARTIFACT: GOD (PXL)

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Wonder if it's all just circles: `turn to` `Section 20.`

HANDS

there are songs to sing about the way
we hold our hands together intertwined as if
to find some token of remembrance a simple touch that holds back much of what could hunt and find us

What do you do?
Keep holding Pull of the road

WHAT DO YOU DO?

- If you choose to Follow the path toward uplifted: `turn to` `Section 88.`

THRESHOLD

the faintest smile plays across those pressed-thin lips It's almost as if I can see a thought dance across your synapses
and for a moment (just a moment)
your eyes shine so bright I half expect to see your imaginings projected onto the canvas laid before you I can always feel my breath catch
then,
standing at the threshold of your world

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Reach the bend where the road ends: turn to Section 92.

ABIGAIL

snark mouthed, snaggle toothed
a crooked smile in a dress a size too big we danced until we forgot that we didn't know how to dance

Keep learning

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Follow the path toward wanderlust: turn to Section 100.

LIES, ALRIGHT?

splashing colors
swirling sounds
the words not spoken burn in my skull whispers (vile) sinister with undulating
ill intent sequestered in my mind
a simple song of glorious suspicions
the so called antics of a childless child stormy weather, wind-tossed bows
a fire burning in the heart of the dog
(god) an angry conclusion a far-stretched notion of unquenchable longing star-speckled eyes

sear me into ashy nothingness
a flurry of sparks from the ancient blacksmith's hammer send quivers down my brain stem
a black cat and a bottle of pills
what a gut wrenching invention for one so full of suspicion

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Admit the unabridged truth: turn to Section 17.

UNTITLED

Thrashed about beaten and broken understood to be simply a token of insecurity lies and mistrust lost in this world of cardboard and plastic sin finds my soul decayed and placid what truth can be found from an electron-speckled screen Nothing forever
never to be seen
life is a fiction written by fools from inside their safe walls built with misguided tools save me.

WHEN I SAY YOUR NAME

and when I say your name (your starlight in my eyes)
I hear the sound of horses,
of chaos,
and a fire but the taste on my lips
is of cider and sunfire

BOYS OF TINDER

posing there with abs glistening
an empty profile beckoning
and is that all you have to offer a six pack and designer jeans pushing me to swipe and fuck
tap and be fucked so tell me something more than those abs and pricey clothes because I'm cute enough and I'm charming enough to be with that soulless Sixpack
for the 5 dollar cover at any bar
(anything) or I will keep swiping

you over my left shoulder like salt in the Devil's eye

NIBIRU

the rust Goddess
spoke to me
telling me secrets unknown and fair Nibiru is rising in the east again
and what am I to do with this?
I don't even have a rocket

THANK YOU

when I coughed
my lung fell out and spilled into my coffee and you handed me a napkin to blot the wetness from my tie thank you for that

[ENDING: GRACE IN THE CHAOS]

You have traveled across the boundary and arrived at the far shore of this memory.

To re-enter the timeline from the beginning, turn to Section 1.

AN UNABRIDGED ADMISSION

“haven’t you seen enough to know that nothing will change?
grass will grow matadors will be gored and shoes will walk (onward) nothing changes except the lividity of our hopes (darkening each time

#of transient guilt

we blink)
and dreams that swell to fill out bursting seams
and with open mouths we stare into the sky grasping at absolution”

swirl and spin and turn and Sing
Skyward bound and determined as Hell. even the father can't stop us now with 9 feet of ribbon we bind our left arms to the sky reunited

WHAT DO YOU DO?

SINS

sing and swallow something sold
sound of sorrow
sins unfold
pour a drink drain another
lies are told lose a lover
drain another
pour one more truth is told soul left sore
sound of silence

REBIRTH

the root of metempsychois is still just psychosis can I have the metem-
free of its dependee?
  or is it all just circles?

PLATE § 20 — ARCHIVAL ARTIFACT: REBIRTH (PXL)

WHAT DO YOU DO?

CHANGELING

the wind blows loose the multicolor scintillation
of your hair and with the shimmer shammer fae wings are drawn to mind and with those wings fluttering against my parietal lobe
it's barely a step to smell the fair folks blood within your veins
their laugh upon your lips their adventure in your heart

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Run fingers through the drifting hair: turn to Section 78.

DRINKING

I've been drinking more than I've been writing and smoking more than I drink and nothing seems quite so right as hiding from the wind
I hear their voices softly whipping round my skull
mumbles, cries, screams, and moans begin to take a toll

What do you do?
Have a smoke
Have a drink
Go for a drive

BACK ON THE ROAD

I'm back on the road after what feels like forever
my hands still itch to throw myself onto the wrong side the road keeps coming flying past and all I can do is sigh

THE SPIDER

a spider's leg
    is hovering over my right arm again it weaves and bobs in time to my nervous energy
it fades away when I settle down
it's not scary (I come to realize) just strange
    is this life now?

MISTRESS

#

And in times of greatest need I always turn to poetry She's a mistress unlike any other who never screens her calls she whispers silent nothings and moans her Verse into my ear speaking of any taboo I wish to hear
Our relationship is one of debauchery ripe with holding of hands and tender moments but fear not
dear reader
we are not without our violent unions and frigid silences but as of yet they've only led to a closer tie and though shes a fictitious personification

I still love her smile

BULLETS

Nights like this make me want to drive a heated knife deep inside my head
I just want the red-hot tip to touch the firing pins of the bullets that line my brain because lately my mind has felt like bullets every thought so sudden jarring
scary loud Ijust(dangerous)needthesebulletsoutofme and I don't know
if a firing pin is even how bullets work
I don't understand bullets I don't understand much cheribum and seraphim are floating in my brain fighting against the medicine that makes me less insane an endless war that shakes and stirs

the pictures in my head with wing and sword they swoop and swirl and fill my heart with dread

A bottle of risperidone is in your hand.

are such a romantic endeavor the total
and complete
giving of yourself to the road
A love affair
with the yellow line
A crimson splash speckles the road in the vague outline of a heart
And we quietly ate our chinese food contemplating the sudden outpouring of insight and the shy one (with a grin)
began to speak emboldened by the chance to be the clever one What about the other car?

And the response came It’s a polyamorous relationship

MORNING

I just don’t think you understand just how great the morning is I get up early rivaling even the birds and celebrate making it through another night with a victory cigarette for my hero (pointed tipward to the sky) It's not every night you fall from grace so I think that is ample cause for celebration

HERETIC

everytime I open my mouth the words spill onto my paper drip drip dripping
into your eyes but listen not to my words
for I am not a poet
I am a heretic and these words
my words will linger like cancer of the soul
will decay your morals
and cast you out of the grace of god

for my poetry
my poetry is blasphemy

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Question the survivor's guilt: `turn to` `Section 6.`

HUMIRA

I keep seeing commercials for Humira
but I know that it's a government
plot a ploy a plan
a tricky trap to reduce our resistance to tuberculosis but I don't know how to stop this government plot
this ploy this plan so I'll just lay here and drown this migraine

What do you do?
Have a smoke

700mg to level me out 10 to take it easy a brisk walk through fluorescent halls while I'm working towards a moment of clarity another milligram to stop the shakes
and hold my pencil steady 600 more to stop the pain and keep my thinking level 1311 swirls inside my head as I work on my epiphany

TOBY

✦ ✦ ✦

the dog's gentle snores prod at me yelling that I shouldn't be here
there is a bed waiting just a few footfalls away a bed that offers warmth and comfort
and companionship yet still I sit listening to the dog's gentle snoring
my eyes dance
searching for spies in a room devoid of all life
save myself
and a gently snoring
dog

PLATE § 51 — ARCHIVAL ARTIFACT: TOBY (PXL)

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Wake early to greet the sunrise: turn to Section 47.

SPRING

its almost funny how little it takes these days
a flash of light in a darkened pane and the wheels begin to spin
those familiar suspicious gears click click clicking
into place but how is one supposed to feel in the spring
once the flowers bloom every hill is a grassy knoll

Get a drink

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Follow the path toward CJ: `turn to` `Section 72.`

DATE NIGHT

this seems like the kind of day where I just need to focus on myself
just get some ice cream
maybe go to the park just have a date with myself and if I play my cards right maybe I'll get lucky

What do you do?
Play your cards right

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Follow the path toward a love poem to myself: turn to Section 5.

STAUNTON

I've spent hours on this unfeeling highway because lately when I close my eyes all
        I see is your
and I want (if only for a moment) for reality to mirror my daydreams

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Write the room number on your forearm: turn to Section 69.

DANCE

swirling and spinning twirling about your legs white with blue dots (of the polka type) picking up the moon's beams running away from the ball,
finally finding reason
to dance “and darling that dress suits the night so well”

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Sing along to the grocery store radio: turn to Section 85.

✦ ✦ ✦

blink and you”ll
miss it but never have I seen them blink unwavering they watch telling him telling all they see
and they see most everything but they don’t see her precious Abigail always in her Sunday best “dress for everyday as if it’s your last” a sigh “between the jello shots and the Ambien
who can really say?”
born (like the rest of us) veiled

to the world
killed in the haze of someone else's
self-medication yet here she stands hunted terrified unafraid

What do you do?
Blink

smoking bummed cigarettes quoting other people's songs and when I think quiet enough my own words may come to mind So cross your legs, clasp your hands let your thoughts wander till the pencil starts to move invent small gods, build bodies of rust and pledge unceasing devotion move the pencil, write those words the rust goddess
has much to say so heed well her words of wisdom

MY EYES

swirl and twirl whine and dine
hold on tight
the time is nigh with angels in my mind
it's hard to see you clearly dear
with so many angels in my eyes
there's barely room for you there

Fly Higher

• If you choose to Follow the path toward rebellion: turn to Section 18.

ORANGES

I've always loved the smell of oranges (especially on your skin)
they have a zest
that screams adventure (nights flying down the highway)
and that hint of acid (“Get a job, you're not man enough for me”)
but mostly they remind me of (you)

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Speak their name like starlight: turn to Section 12.

CROSSROADS

and every time we came to a crossroad
I prayed for a red light but your damndable luck kept the greens
acoming
all I wanted was to steal a single kiss a prize on par with Prometheus
and his burning flame rising higher in my heart than those reds that never came to steal a thought from Hailey (for sometimes I feel like Sam) you've got me wound tighter than my left-wrist twist so baby pull off the road
and let me

get that kiss

What do you do?

Take their hand
Keep going

INTROSPECTIVE POETRY

writing introspective poetry can be such a drag so lets focus instead on bees they bumble and drift spreading life and making sweets

you can thank me for this poem later

WHAT DO YOU DO?

his name is irony
    and he's normally in control and him, just ignore him
he makes the decisions at least the ones that really matter let's see what we can do about making this a little easier let me pour you a drink

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Wrap them in the warmth of the quilt: turn to Section 76.

THE THINGS I HEAR

fly into the stratosphere talk about the things I hear all the angels there screaming in my head pushing my hands to deeds untoward wield my weapon like a sword I just want to clarify they need my blood to sanctify the land to have their war smashing shields, clashing swords
they sent their snake to poison my veins switch the dreams inside my head until I draw my blood for them and spill it on the ground

A syringe of risperidone is in your hand.
What do you do?
Take your meds
Maybe later

CINNAMON

✦ ✦ ✦

cinnamon

the smell of cinnamon
lazy on the wind the angels coming down to torment me again with wicked wing and sickly sword they chase across the land
they hope to catch and snap and bite
to take their power from my hand

A bottle of risperidone is in your hand.
What do you do?

MEET SOMEONE

That was beautiful.
I want you to meet someone.
She's very important to me.
She isn't real.
She has saved my life so many times.

DELIGHT

happily holding and smile filled
folding
of simple, miraculous
hands
spirit filling songing and lip quivering longing
red stars collapsing and synapses snapping with open mouth gasping as the universe slowly explodes
and still the
folding
hands

MY BONES

the rust Goddess
reaches in and takes hold of my bones rotting out and reaching in to take hold of my soul with bones of iron quickly gone
I fall before her now

Fall before her now

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Follow the path toward timelines: turn to Section 96.

PRETENTIOUS CRAP

a cyclonic path of everbuilding doubt a fragile pretense shattered
by the mind altering chemicals that hold me accountable for actions I have yet to conceive gut-wrenching, bowel-turning, blood-curdling streams of semi-viscous sin pour forth from my eyes and bring life to my senses
pseudogenesis twisted tale of creation and on the seventh day he rested sometimes God gets all the breaks

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Abandon pretension for bees: turn to Section 61.

LONG NIGHTS IN A SHITTY MOTEL

I wrote it on my arm
last night
if lack of memory serves me right
I don’t really remember yesterday and less still of the day before but I must have found something in that green haze
for here the beauty lies simple, serene, resounding truth
it’s indisputable really “I AM I”

PLATE § 69 — ARCHIVAL ARTIFACT: LONG NIGHTS IN A SHITTY MOTEL (PXL)

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Test your senses against the mirror: turn to Section 94.

THE RAIN

the rain is dripping on my windshield and my tattered wiper blades valiantly wipe them away clearing the glass - and my mind the world goes from a blur to crystal clear in a single slash
  only to fall prey to the liquid occlusion
      once again yet through this futility my wipers soldier on nobly slicing out glimpses of the blacktop ahead

TAKE THE WHEEL

shine the headlights
Who has the wheel now?
how loud is their voice?
a simple monotone?
counting
one 1(oneoneoneone) 2358 keeping time to the heart(head) holding it all in
new fingers on the wheel
and with trembling hands she lights a cigarette
I have to kill myself slowly, to feel I'm really alive
Keys?

tossed.
Headlights?
shone.
the new one
the voice from outside hands grip the

and then we drop 'em
whiskey fire burns in my gut making me feel lucky an irresponsible
amount of money on black
it's in the rust Goddess' hands
spin it

Go to a party

CONNECTED

my fingertips graze that place on the back of your neck just barely above the spot where thoughts collect and coalesce and translate into movement and actions
and my fingertips are my conduit sharing those signals moving in time to your synaptic feedback

WHAT DO YOU DO?

BEES ARE DYING AT AN ALARMING RATE

bees are dying
at an alarming
rate and I'm looking in a mirror wondering if my hair looks better parted to the left and bees are dying
at an alarming
rate and I don't know for sure but maybe a thousand died while I was adjusting my shirt and if all the bees die something sciencey and bad happens and I'm standing here trying to decide if I'm too old for a lipring and bees are dying

at an alarming
rate

WHAT DO YOU DO?

ALIENS

I got too high to write a poem so I'll just fucking tell you angels are amongst us
and the government knows and aliens were here a long time ago

What do you do?
Have a smoke
Go for a drive

WARMTH

the warmth always astonishes me how can being so warm
be so comforting shaking off that familiar cold
the shawl woven (and worn with pride)
of tangled half-truths( half-smiles)
half-lies and yet the warmth always astonishes
me always draws me closer

WHAT DO YOU DO?

SECTION 77

FULL OF EYES

I'm full of eyes
and my eyes are full of something not much unlike tears and the moon is full of secret bases hidden in their secret places
and I don't know what to do

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Step through the blinding threshold: turn to Section 8.

HAIR

your hair between my fingers swirling, moving the tips then linger holding on (and holding out)
lost in you and lost without

sitting on my porch with a spliff in one hand and a pen in the other (I've never been a left-handed smoker;
tonight I'll make an exception)
the day's storm clouds lazily cover the stars and someone is setting off fireworks in august It's
a good night

SIMPLER TIME

simpler time

I'm yearning for a simpler time when we were angels in the sky no broken bones no bloodshot eyes
just simple wings and clouds so high so take my hand
and take a step
let's try and fly with what wings we have left

What do you do?

sighs run red-hot rivulets through my mind searing shut my synapses burning off my senses
A medic’s scalpel hastily heated on a lighter
the same lighter
that ignited the cigarette that drew the sniper’s fire

a gunshot

“Its like shes dancing…
can’t she ever just walk?”
and dance
we(she) did bouncing past toiletries waltzing amongst the produce
and from the front pocket blasted the song that song
that holds
it all together the one that Hailey
sings/sang/sung

THE ENDING

I kindly suggest you back off cause I'm about to pop off show up
throw down now you know
whats going round
it's just that sometimes I feel so empty but even then it thrills me feeling all the things that could kill me I'm left just thinking bout the ending
and wondering where that release could send me

THIS PARTY

I was at this party with all my friends all standing round and all I remember is starting to drown I don't mean to perseverate upon this fancy dinner plate
but I just wanted to smash it to dust
light a fire, watch it rust because the rust Goddess is always standing round waiting to tear it all to the ground

What do you do?
Smash it Don't smash it and Dad’s beer sat warm in my stomach

as I pondered slipping clutches and failing transmissions flying through the night grinding gears up the mountain starry nights
above me
above you and your car and here I am wishing on Dad’s warm beer in my stomach
that your slipping clutch and failing transmission get you home safe

What do you do?
Have a smoke

WHAT DO YOU DO?

- If you choose to Follow the path toward porch: `turn to` `Section 80.`
- If you choose to Follow the path toward drinking: `turn to` `Section 22.`

TEXTS

I spend so much time rereading
texts
making sure they trigger some synaptic crackfiresnap, some memory (no matter how ill-defined)
I'm scared you see.
I've been losing time (cracks in the plaster (running counter to the cracks I'm familiar with))
and reading these texts
is the only way to know I haven't lost time
with you

WHAT DO YOU DO?

• If you choose to Trace lines of dialogue in the dark: turn to Section 40.

WANDERLUST

wanderlust (if lust had survived the media smear campaign)
wander-longings a wander-yearn puling your heart strings across this land up into the mountains leaving trace amounts of rubber
forming a crisscrossing map veins across the earth

But he was watching wasn't he?
We don't have to talk about him.
We can talk about better days.

What do you do?
Talk about him
Talk about better days

WHAT DO YOU DO?

- If you choose to Follow the path toward him: turn to Section 45.
- If you choose to Follow the path toward simpler time: turn to Section 83.
